The Intrepid Fallen Heroes Fund Privacy Policy:

The Intrepid Fallen Heroes Fund is committed to protecting your privacy and does not use this web site to collect any personally identifiable information about you other than what you provide voluntarily. We do not sell, trade, or provide your name or contact information with any other organization or individual, except in those cases when a donor designates his or her contribution to one of our specific related agencies. In these cases, we do provide contact information to the designated related agency in order to acknowledge the donation. Related agency personnel are told they may not use this information for any type of solicitation.

We do not use your personal information for direct mail, telephone solicitation, or any other purpose. Should your donation be $1,000 or above your name will be listed on our website. At the time of your donation or any time thereafter you have the option to have your name excluded from our website. If you are currently listed you can request that we delete your name and address by sending us a request for deletion by mail, fax, or e-mail. Our mailing address, fax number and email address are contained in the "Contact Us" section of this web site.

For organizations linked to our web site, please refer to their privacy statements as contained on their websites. For individuals using our web site for donating, we use a service called "Give Direct," operated and maintained by Local and Independent Charities of America. Every secure page on the lic.org website has been secured with a digital certificate by VeriSign, Inc. The privacy policy for Give Direct can be found at https://www.givedirect.org/give/PrivacyPolicy.htm

If you have questions regarding our Privacy Policy Statement or its implementation, please contact us at info@fallenheroesfund.org, or by mail at:
